

George Street Middle School is a vibrant school located in a historic building in downtown Fredericton. We have 53 teaching and support staff and 730 students. Our student population is very diverse with students from over 50 different countries speaking a variety of languages. We have a full time teacher for English As An Additional Language as well as two other teachers supporting our new to Canada population. Our location downtown provides us with an opportunity to partner with the University and other learning resources - all within a walking distance. We are proud of our two high-technology Maker-Spaces as well as our newly completed electronic music studio. GSMS offers a lot for our students to become life-long learners.

FREDERICTON COMMUNITY

Fredericton is the capital of the Canadian province of New Brunswick. The city is situated in the west-central portion of the province along the Saint John River. One of the main urban centres in New Brunswick, it is the third-largest city in the province after Moncton and Saint John. An important cultural, artistic, and educational centre for the province, Fredericton is home to two universities, the New Brunswick College of Craft and Design, and cultural institutions such as the Beaverbrook Art Gallery and The Playhouse, a performing arts venue. The city hosts the annual Harvest Jazz & Blues Festival, attracting regional and international jazz, blues, rock, and world artists. Fredericton is a very active city offering many opportunities for sports, recreation, dance, etc. It maintains more than 80 km of trails accessible to pedestrians and cyclists and has the only fixed structure six-court indoor tennis facility in Atlantic Canada.
